Statement of Significance

Last updated on -

Architecturally, a simple but highly representative site from- and-of the gold era which is externally close to its original form and, with the adjacent stone walling, contributes to a valuable mining precinct.

Historically, it demonstrates the miner lifestyle by its form and siting, in particular the Jones family, who were long-term participants on the Eaglehawk field.

Physical Description 1

Double-fronted and built of brick (painted), this simple gabled cottage has a hipped concave roof verandah and parapeted side walls. The capped rubble stone wall, extending to the east, supports the tenure history of both sites and points to the former Neangar Mine Shaft.

Integrity

External - Chimney(s) have been altered and the bricks painted. A high front fence is both unrelated to the house period and an obstruction to views of the house.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
