Statement of Significance

Last updated on -

This is an interesting example of Gothic Revival in Victoria. It is unusual for a church of this scale to be erected in brick and detailing of tower pinnacles in particularly distinctive. The church is simply composed and detailed. The tower with its spiral staircase and carillon of eight bells is a notable feature and landmark of the town. Single span roof of metal and timber and the graceful nave lancet window are also notable. Church is a fine feature of this important historic city.

Physical Description 1

St. Paul's Church Bendigo was erected in stages. The nave dates from 1867-8, the tower from 1873, and the transepts and sanctuary from 1926-7. The Architect for all stages was Robert A. Love, however, the final stage was supervised by Gawler and Drummond. The church is constructed of brick and has stone dressings around the window openings and on the buttresses, parapets, etc. It has a simple cruciform plan with the tower centrally located at the 'west' end.

Physical Conditions

It appears that some mezzanine arrangement was introduced into the transept design in 1926. Such an arrangement probably did not subscribe to Love's original plan.
