
RYAN CORNER HUNTING HIDE 1

Location

HAMILTON-PORT FAIRY ROAD PORT FAIRY, MOYNE SHIRE

Municipality

MOYNE SHIRE

Level of significance

Heritage Inventory Site

Heritage Inventory (HI) Number

H7321-0037

Heritage Listing

Victorian Heritage Inventory

Statement of Significance

Last updated on - July 11, 2008

The site is of limited local significance.

| | |
|------------------------|---|
| Interpretation of Site | The size, extent & location of the site suggests its usage as a hunting hide. No artefacts were found associated with the structure. Although its condition & state of preservation points to a recent construction. The site is well placed on a rise overlooking a swamp. |
| Hermes Number | 44025 |
| Property Number | |

History

The history of the site is unknown. However the property the site is located on was also the location of the first squatting license for the district in 1839. John Ritchie was the first to taken up land in the area, building his first home in the south west of the property, Aringa station. The property has run cattle & sheep since it was first settled.

NOTE: Although no information was provided about the site, local farmers mentioned past activities involving construction of small structures using locally available basalt. These structures included stock pens & dry stone walls.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.

For further details about Heritage Overlay places, contact the relevant local council or go to Planning Schemes Online <http://planningschemes.dpcd.vic.gov.au/>