Statement of Significance

Last updated on - February 1, 1989

For a long period the centre of Anglican worship in Yarraville, and as such the beneficiary of generous grants from James Cuming. It is built from local stone, representing both the community's occupation and their religious zeal. Recommended for individual planning protection.

Physical Description 1

A simple gabled basalt masonry church with a stuccoed porch at its north end. An oculus vent is the only embellishment to the building. Early plans (1894) show it free-standing, without the rear addition. Reputedly the interior has heavy timber trusses and pine ceilings.

Integrity

Integrity: Additions at rear; fence gone.

Physical Description 2

Streetscape: part of a 19th and 20th century residential area.
