Statement of Significance

Last updated on -

Nos 1-3 Exford Close are of local architectural significance as a group of carefully sited and landscaped project houses designed by important domestic architects Graeme Gunn, John Reid and Charles Duncan in 1972. Both Duncan's and Reid's designs were first built here. This was Merchant Builders Pty. Ltd. sixth display centre.

Physical Description 1

Visual Description: No. 2 Exford Close is almost totally obscured by a luxuriant bush garden, with brick-paved paths. No. 3 has fawn brick walls with dark stained timber. The old triple-fronted plan is reworked, to cleverly achieve separate courtyard spaces for each living room, with a side entry. Deep eaves, pergolas and a brick wing walls are other characteristics. The landscaped garden is native bush inspired.

Intactness

Intactness: No. 2 has a large but sympathetic 3 car garage built in front. No. 3 appears to be intact.
