HO226 Goodwin Street and Somerset Road Precinct, Glen Iris

The Goodwin Street and Somerset Road Precinct, Glen Iris, is of heritage significance for the following reasons:

- The place is a notable example of an intact interwar precinct with good examples of housing from the period, including the Old English and Mediterranean interwar architectural styles.
- The place epitomizes Camberwell's renewed development in the years immediately after the Depression and is substantially consistent in housing stock from this period.
- The place has a large number of mature front gardens, some early or original fencing of varied types, and original street kerbing and surfacing.
