
Lumeah

Location

163 High Street,BERWICK, Casey City

Municipality

CASEY CITY

Level of significance

Included in Heritage Overlay

Heritage Overlay Numbers

HO90

Heritage Listing

Casey City

Statement of Significance

Last updated on - May 20, 2004

Built in 1900 or earlier, Lumeah is of high local significance as an externally intact example of the modest weatherboard cottages that were once a feature of Berwick and helped give the township a rural character.

Heritage Study/Consultant	Casey - Casey Heritage Study, Context Pty Ltd, 2004; Casey - Heritage of the City of Berwick, Context Pty Ltd, 1993;
Hermes Number	62963
Property Number

Physical Description 1

This small weatherboard cottage is simple in form with a gabled roof extending to form a verandah across the main facade and a skillion section at the rear. Typical of the cottages built from the early years of settlement through to the 1930s and 40s, this example appears to date from around the turn of the century. Its only decorative features are the timber Federation brackets on the verandah and nameplate next to the door.

The house appears to be in a fair condition, set well back from the street, in a leafy garden. The current owners of Lumeah are Christine and Michelle Corrigan, and the house is sited on approximately 980 square metres of land.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.

For further details about Heritage Overlay places, contact the relevant local council or go to Planning Schemes Online <http://planningschemes.dpcd.vic.gov.au/>