History

The original small cottage was built by the Row family in 1864 and then replaced (in a different location on the site) in 1881 with the extant homestead. The extensive lands were used for grazing and horse rearing. The homestead remained in private ownership until it was purchased by Knox City Council in 1987.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
