Statement of Significance

Last updated on - October 5, 2005

A three-storey brick and stucco warehouse built by Dalgety and Co in 1913. From 1925-1958 it was occupied by the famous H V McKay Pty Ltd Sunshine Harvesters. As with its adjoining neighbours the building is strongly associated with the agricultural implement business established in this part of Bourke Street and associated with the Spencer Street railway station.
