
Former Safe Deposit Building

B3574 Safe Deposit Building

Location

88-110 Queen Street,, MELBOURNE VIC 3000 - Property No B3574

Municipality

MELBOURNE CITY

Level of significance

State

Victorian Heritage Register (VHR) Number

H0451

Heritage Listing

National Trust

Statement of Significance

Last updated on - June 24, 2008

Classified as group with B81.

Group Statement of Significance: The important Wardell corner bank of 1883 is flanked by two allied and integrated office buildings of 1891 by William Pitt at 380 Collins Street and 90 Queen Street. This major corner group of Gothic Revival buildings of the Land Boom period is the only one of its kind still surviving in the City of Melbourne. Their detail is sympathetic and such remodelling as has occurred has been most skilfully carried out.

Group Classified: 02/12/1974

Individual Statement of Significance: Designed by William Pitt and built in 1890 for the Stock Exchange of Melbourne Co. Ltd. and occupied by the Melbourne Safe Deposits Co. Ltd. this seven storey building has a very ornately detailed facade in the Gothic Revival style. It is linked behind the adjacent corner bank building with number 382 Collins Street, also designed by William Pitt in 1890 in the same style and for the same owner.

Classified: 15/06/1978

Hermes Number 65424

Property Number

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.

For further details about Heritage Overlay places, contact the relevant local council or go to Planning Schemes Online <http://planningschemes.dpcd.vic.gov.au/>