Statement of Significance

Last updated on - July 15, 2008

A prefabricated iron store of 1854, which possibly originated as one of the iron chapels imported by the Wesleyans from Moreewood and Rogers of England.

It consists of cast iron pilasters, five inch (or 130mm) corrugated iron cladding, and a stuccoed masonry facade probably of the 1860s. The brand cast into the pilaster, "Edwin Maw, Liverpool" is unique in Victoria and known elsewhere only in a group of iron structures at Numbaa, New South Wales.
