Statement of Significance

Last updated on - August 10, 2006

A bluestone church designed by T A Kelly and built as a single nave, opened in 1870, then enlarged in 1881 and 1885. It is of interest because of the hall church arrangement of nave and aisles, without clerestory, and the triple-gabled west front with three rose windows, the outermost ones with tracery of a distinctive diagonal pattern.
