Statement of Significance

Last updated on - May 21, 2004

A Presbyterian church of 1885-6 by the Bairnsdale architect A F Kraemer on a quasi-auditorium plan with a broad polygonal transept-like termination and a complex roof of strutted rafters and scissor trusses, carried from strange clusters of foliated corbels; all in thin construction and now regrettably in a parlous structural state, as well as being seriously defaced by additions to the main front.
