Statement of Significance

Last updated on - May 24, 2004

The house was originally known as 'Tamar' and was built for John Honeychurch Down in 1858-60. The architects, Backhouse & Reynolds designed this Italianate style, 2 storied masonry residence using restrained motifs derived from Victorian era pattern books. The house was renamed 'Wimmera House' by William H. Lloyd, a former Wimmera district miller who acquired the house in 1883.
