Statement of Significance

Last updated on - June 23, 2005

A wooden house designed in 1897 about an earlier core by the local architect W H Chandler in an eclectic American Queen Anne/Eastlake/Shingle Style, with a two stage polygonal corner turret with bellcast roof, perforated bargeboards carried on stepped brackets, wall panels of mock shingling, and distinctive wall frieze bands and arched architraves bearing rows of circular paterae (as at Braemar, Woodend) - and as such an exceptional essay in picturesque eclecticism demonstrating American influence in the transitional period from the late Victorian to the local Federation Style.
