Statement of Significance

Last updated on - June 7, 2004

Rare or Localised:

A tree of a species or variety that is rare or of very localised distribution.

Outstanding Size:

A tree outstanding for its large height, trunk circumference or canopy spread.

Growing in a raised garden in this linear park, this tree has had significant limb drop over the past few years. At present, the remaining structure is quite sound although some signs of stress are evident. The species shows high tolerance to Dutch Elm disease and is being used for breeding programs.

It is located in the north-west corner of Alma Park between the railway line and church.

The tree has been removed 18/05/2012.
