Contribution to the landscape
Outstanding size

This Variegated Elm is a large, upright form of the species dominating the landscape.

Mr Retallack purchased 3 acres in 1881 and built the large house named Carnbrae Two after a castle in Cornwall. It was bought by Misses Mitchell in 1908 who then sold it to Messrs Manifold Cuthbert & Bailey for the establishment of Queens College. The site is now the Ballarat Campus of the Australian Catholic University.
