Statement of Significance

Last updated on - June 16, 2008

Location or Context: Remnant native vegetation.

Outstanding Size: Height x circumference x spread.

A isolated stand of remnant vegetation growing on an old reserve once used for quarrying and recently a tip site (now closed). The population is of mixed age with significant regeneration occurring in recent years. Growing in association with Eucalyptus aromaphloia. These old mature trees have attained a considerable size and are another example of the isolated occurrences of Silver Banksia around Ballarat.
