Statement of Significance

Last updated on - June 16, 2008

Horticultural Value:

Location or Context: Historic garden or park.

Rare or Localised: 1-10 known specimens.

An outstanding specimen of this rare species. The tree is a prominent feature of the garden of this 1910 homestead. The only other known example occurs at Taylor and Sangsters Nursery, Mt Macedon, which also has a gold coloured form. It is interesting to note that an employee of Taylor & Sangster, Mr Fleming, laid out the garden at Wombat Park circa 1911. The tree requires removal of internal watershoots and any reverting green branches. A young tree has been planted near the tennis court

Tree died in 2000 and was removed. .
