Statement of Significance

Last updated on - December 1, 2004

What is significant?

The dwelling, constructed c.1900, at 28 Radovick Street, Korumburra

Why is it significant?

The dwelling at 28 Radovick Street is of local historic and aesthetic interest to the town of Korumburra.

Historically, it is important as locally rare surviving examples of dwellings built for the workforce associated with the mining operations that were highly significant in the early development and growth of Korumburra.

Aesthetically, it is typical example of small workers cottages and are also important as one of a number of individually significant dwellings that enhance the streetscape of Radovick Street, which is predominantly comprised of housing from the pre-WW2 period.
