

Victorian Heritage Database Report

Report generated on - 13/10/24

---

UNIDENTIFIED: POINT ORMOND

---

Location

Point Ormond, Elwood

Victorian Heritage Register (VHR) Number

S881

Construction material

Wood

Propulsion

Sail

Length/Breadth/Depth

0.00 / 0.00 / 0.00

VHR history

This site is an as yet unidentified wooden 19th century sailing ship wreck scattered over about 1 square kilometre off the Elwood Canal, north of Point Ormond. The anchors are on the southern reef, it appears the ship was blown ashore during a SW gale and broke up.